

Rosemary Bryant Foundation Grant Application Form

Nurses and midwives represent nearly two-thirds of registered health practitioners in Australia. Through funding nursing and midwifery research, the Foundation aims to create a more informed and productive workforce that can provide the optimal care to the community.

The Foundation is seeking applications for high-quality research projects which have a strong focus on being able to be translated into practice. The successful applicant(s) will have strong leadership qualities and their research will strengthen and promote collaboration and the transfer of knowledge to achieve improved evidence-based healthcare outcomes.
